metaphors we read by

can’t
get into it

it’s hard

don’t
get it

it’s boring

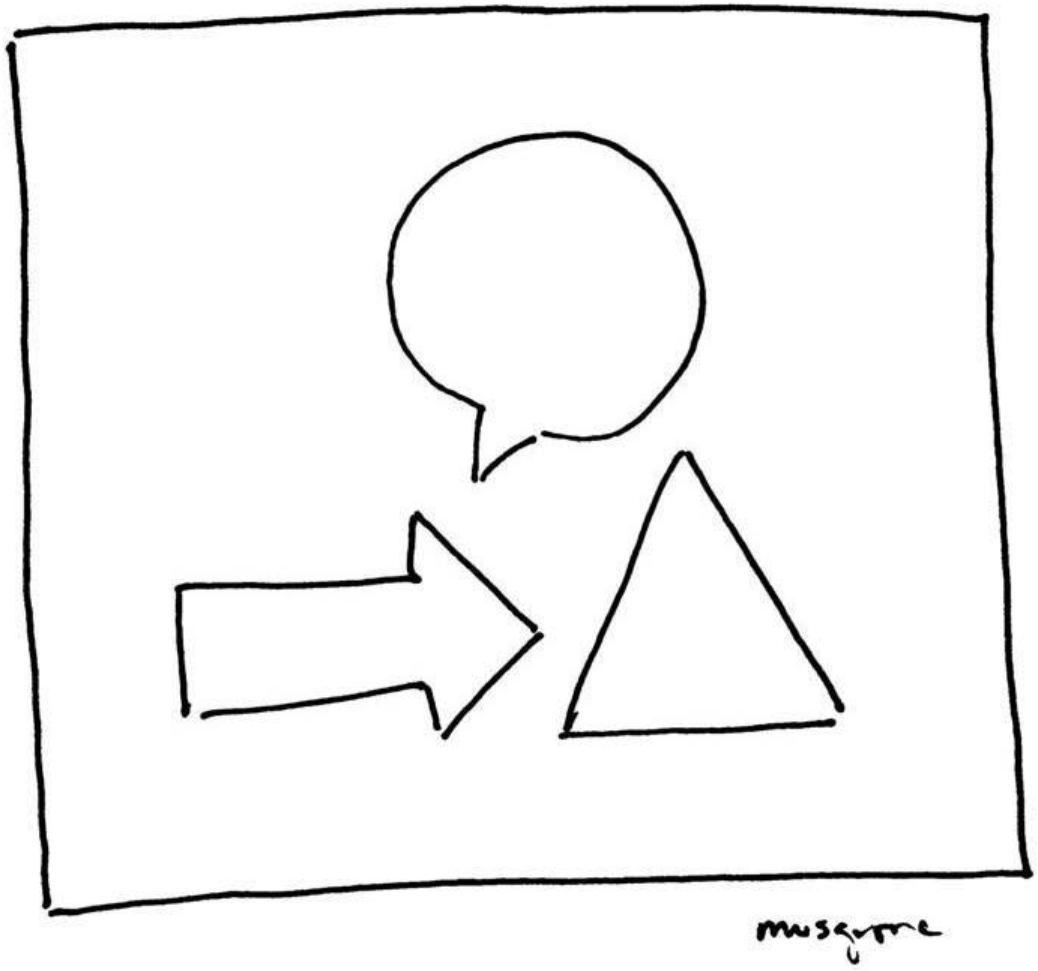
can’t
make anything
out of it

can’t
follow it

doesn’t
move me



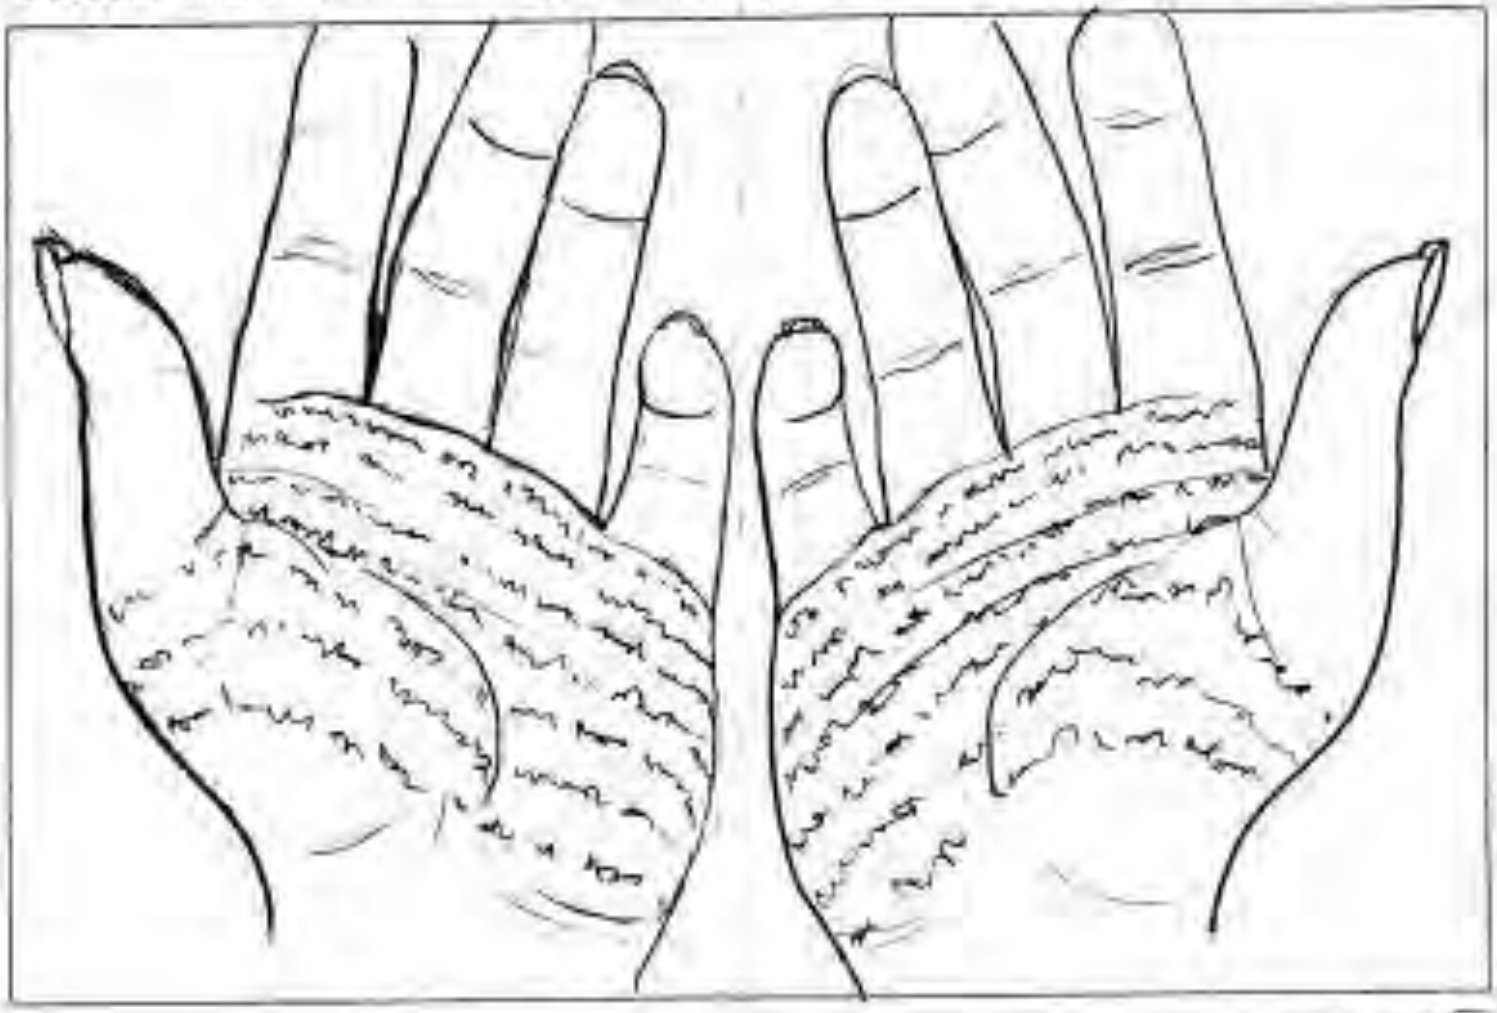
musgrave

draw a picture

In the area below, draw a picture of what happens when you read. Then follow the instructions on the back of this page.

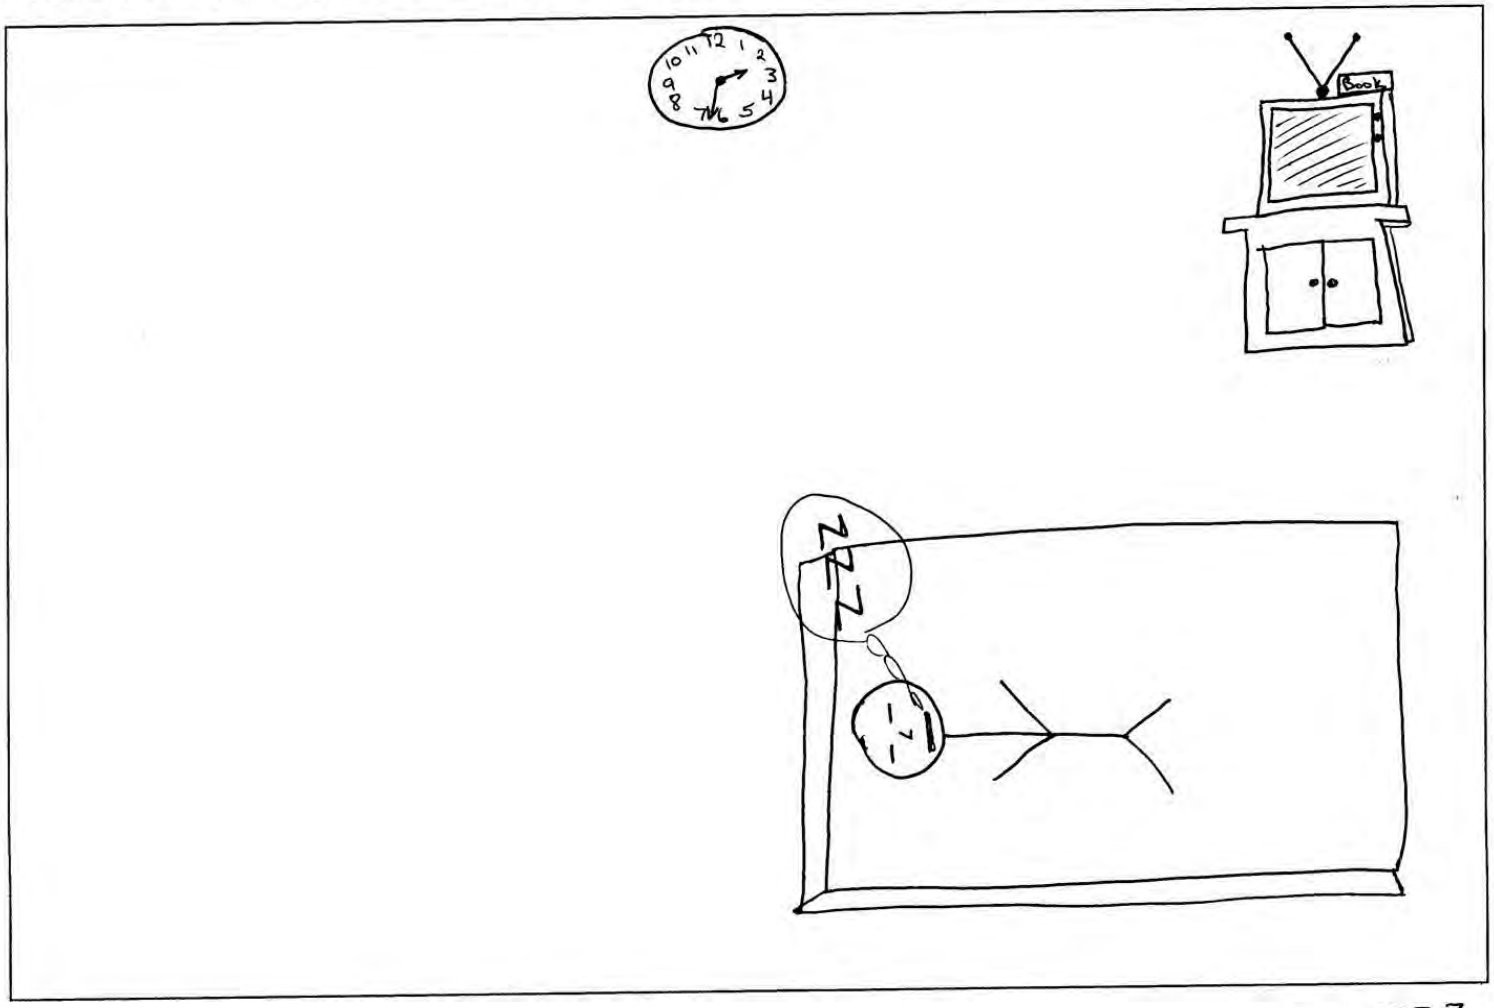
CODE 173

In the area below, draw a picture of what happens when you read. Then follow the instructions on the back of this page.



CODE 235

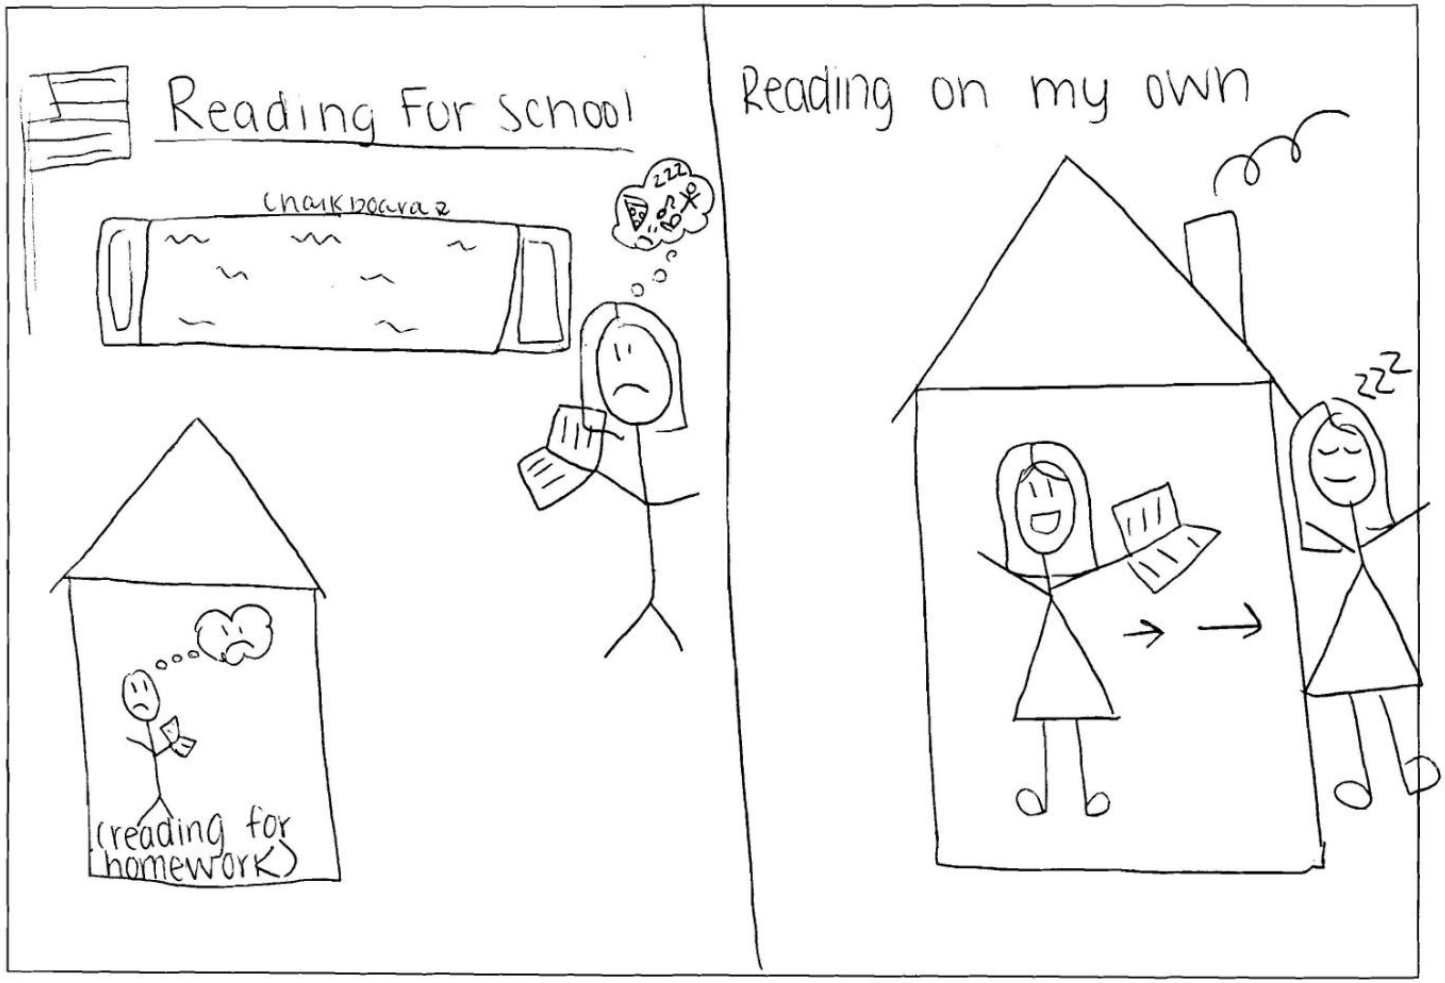
In the area below, draw a picture of what happens when you read. Then follow the instructions on the back of this page.



CODE 223

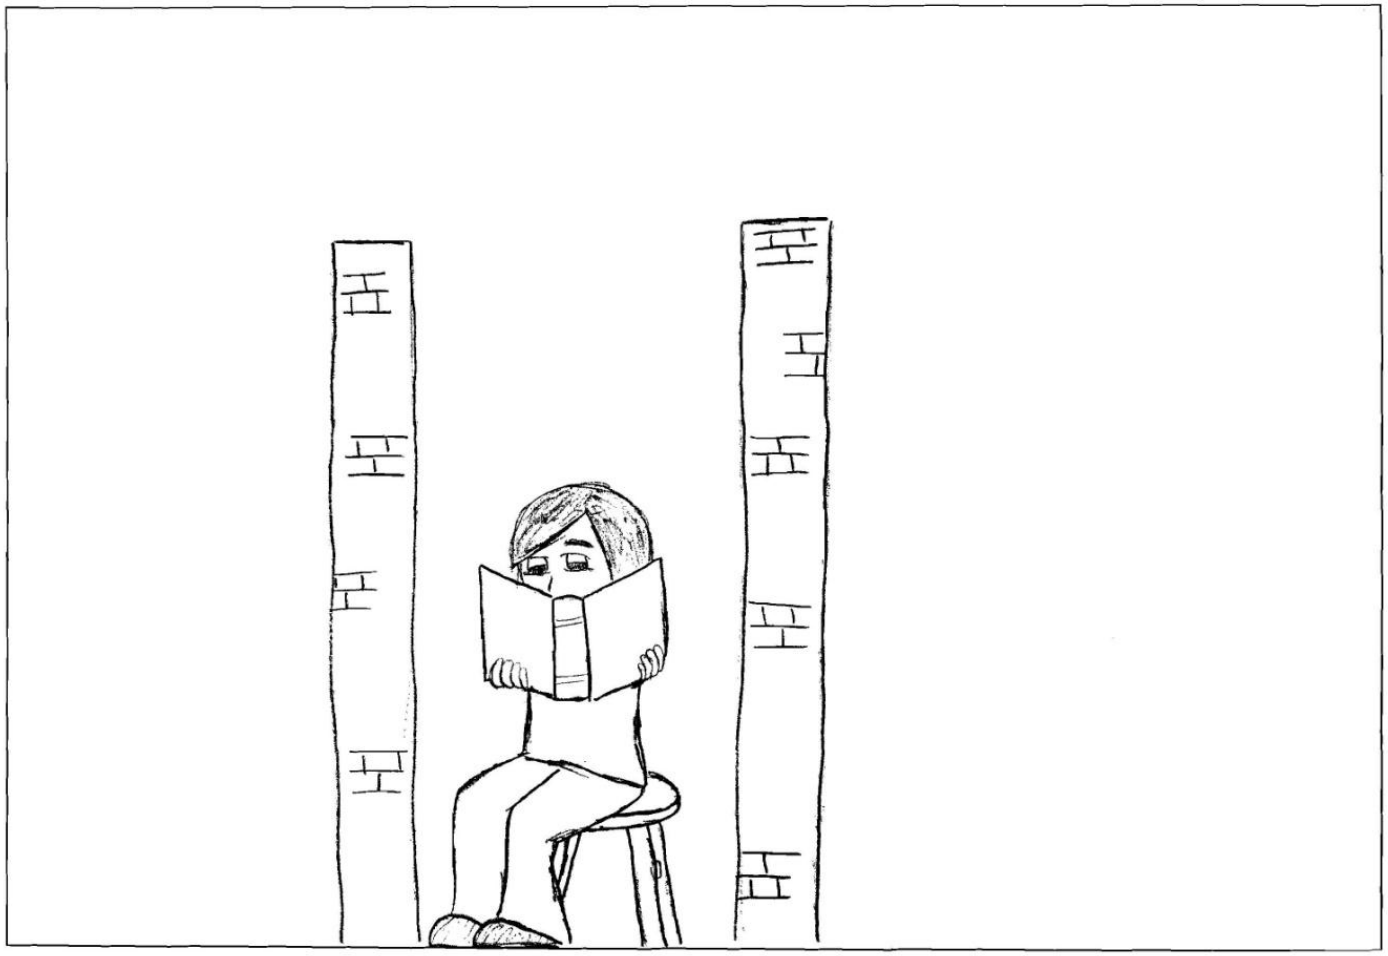
CODE 582

In the area below, draw a picture of what happens when you read. After completing your drawing, turn the page over and continue.



CODE 618

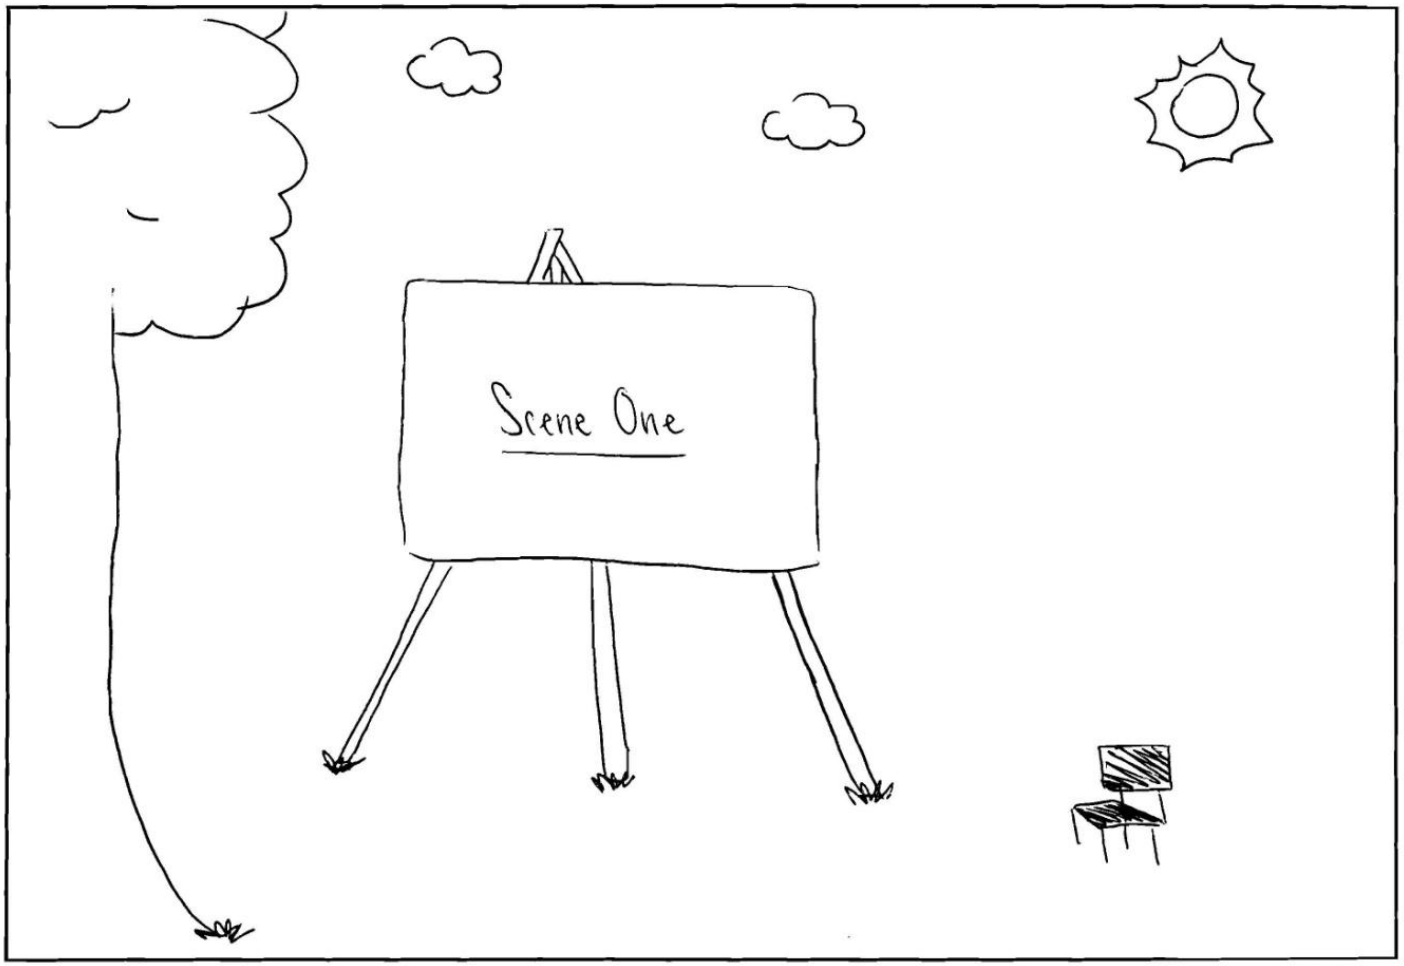
In the area below, draw a picture of what happens when you read. After completing your drawing, turn the page over and continue.



In the area below, draw a picture of what happens when you read. Then follow the instructions on the back of this page.

CODE 1

In the area below, draw a picture of what happens when you read. Then follow the instructions on the back of this page.



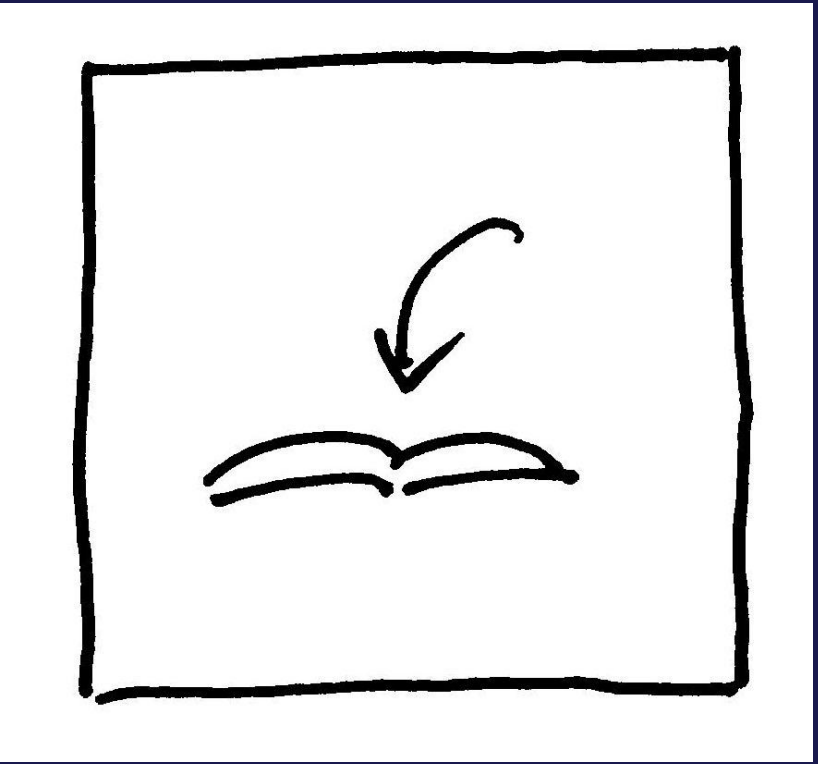
CODE 126

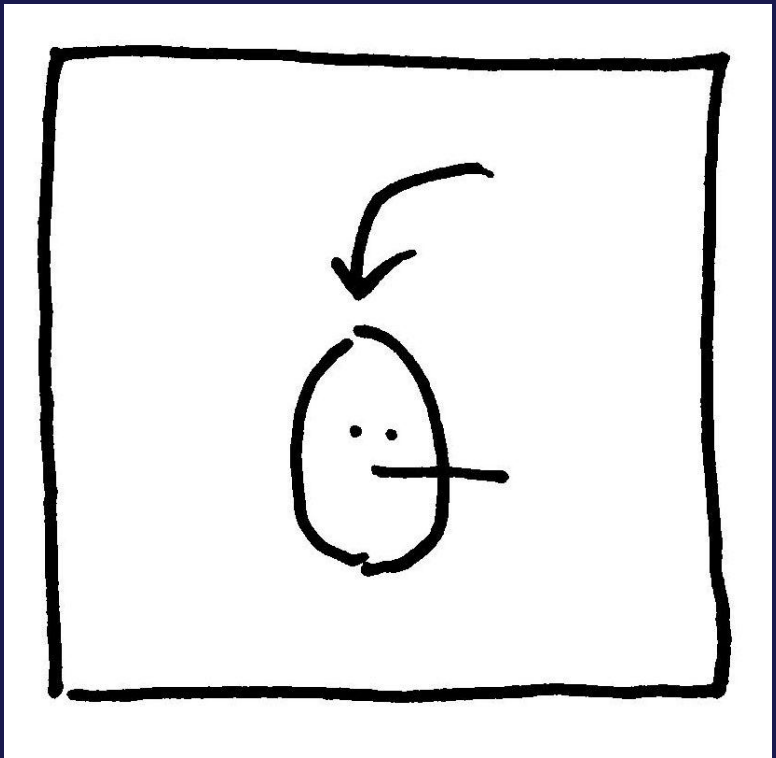
Our ordinary conceptual system, in terms of which we both think and act, is fundamentally metaphorical in nature.

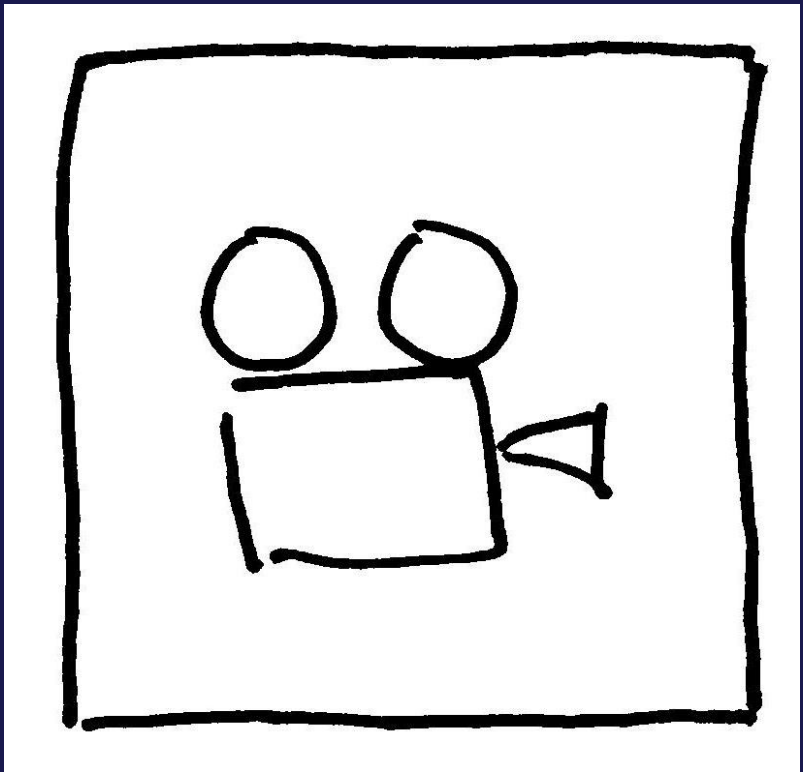
George Lakoff and Mark Johnson

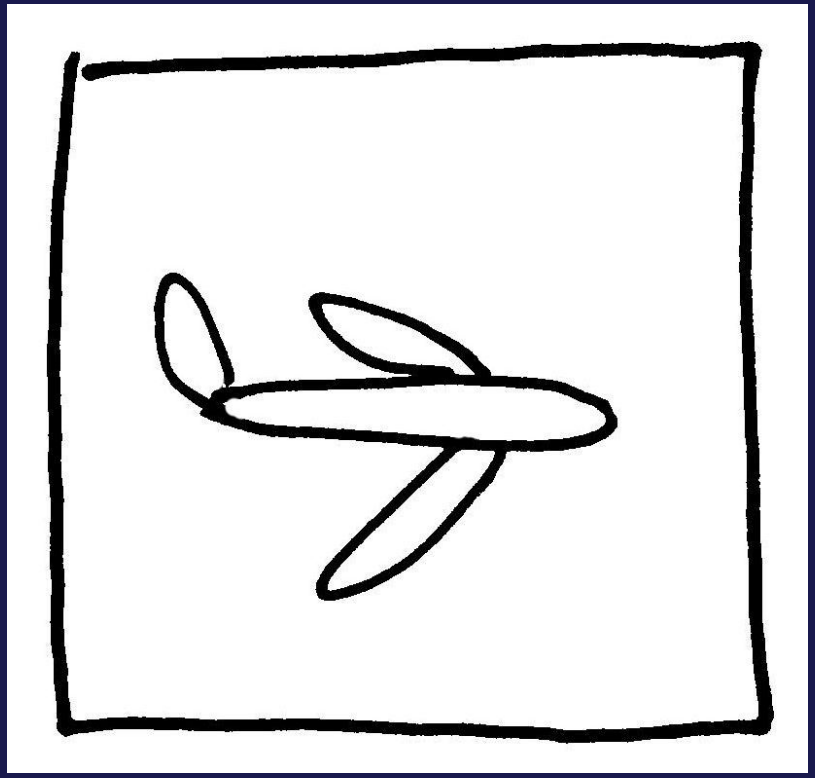
Metaphors We Live By

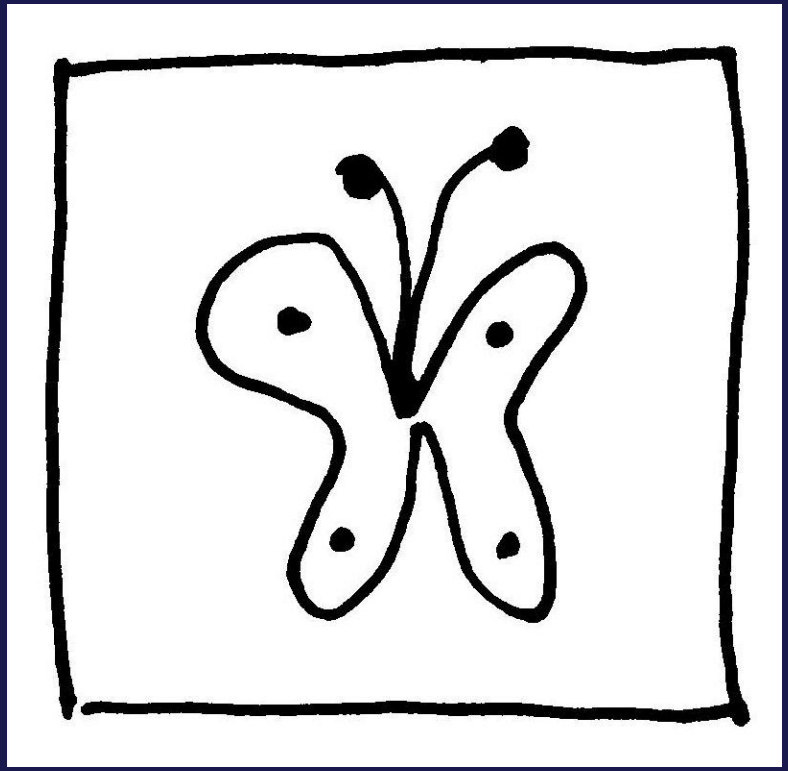
metaphors
we read by

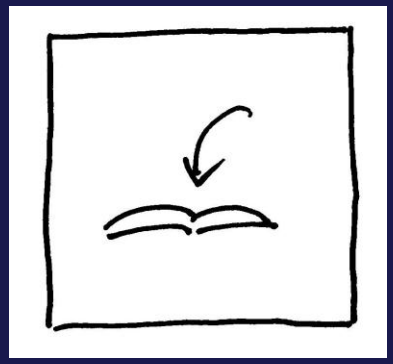


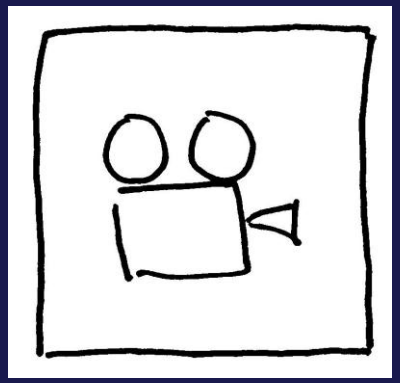


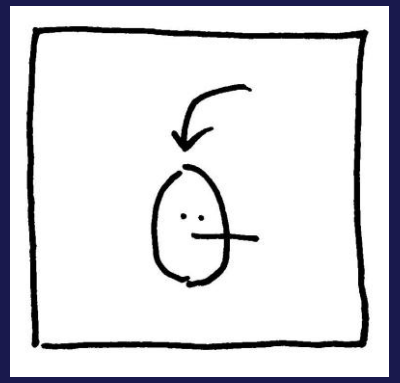


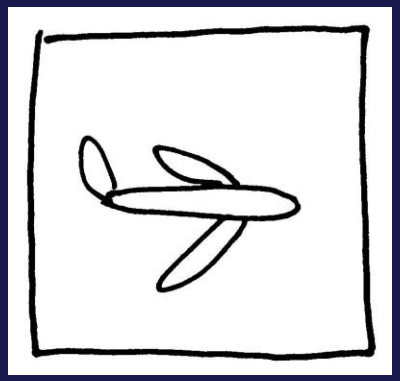


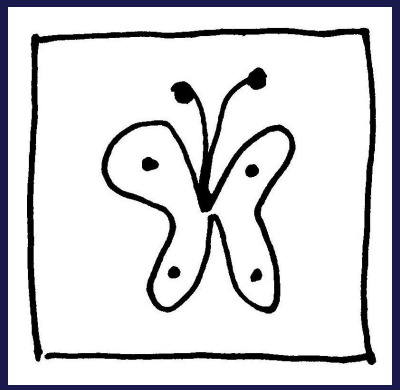


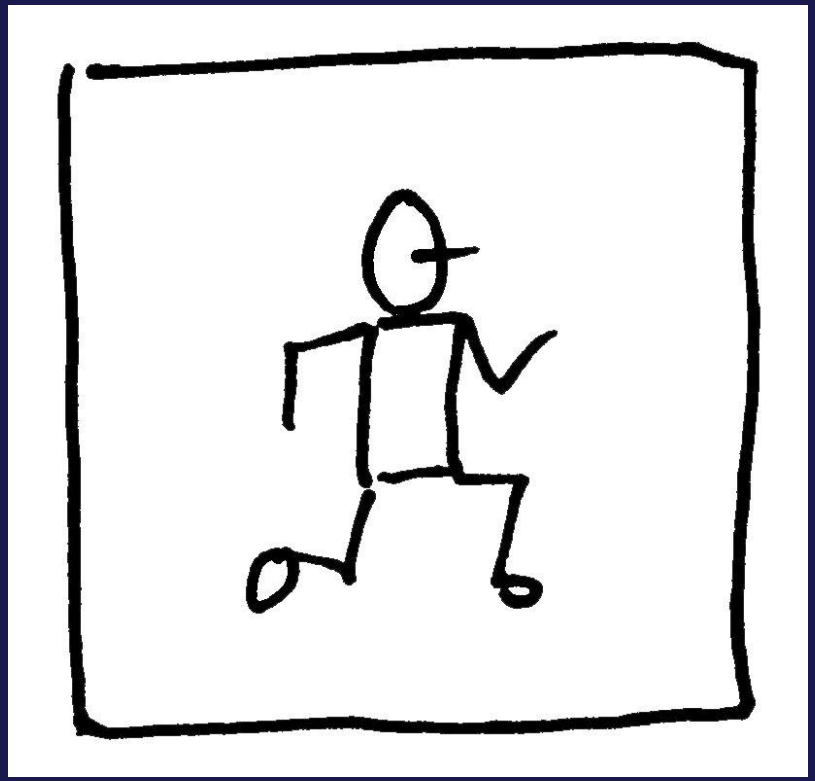








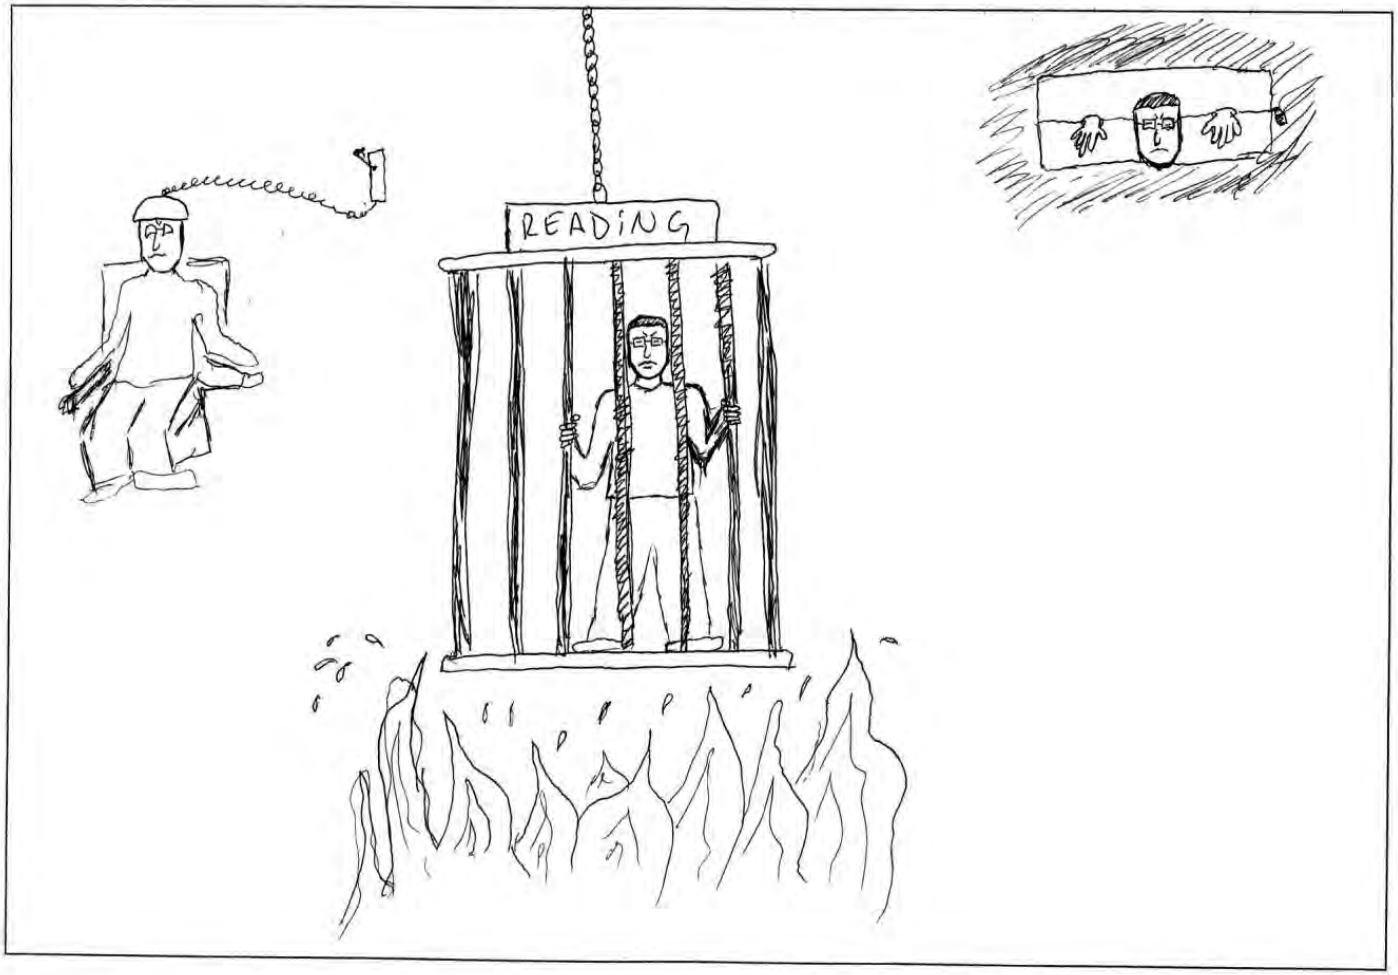




reading = moving = body

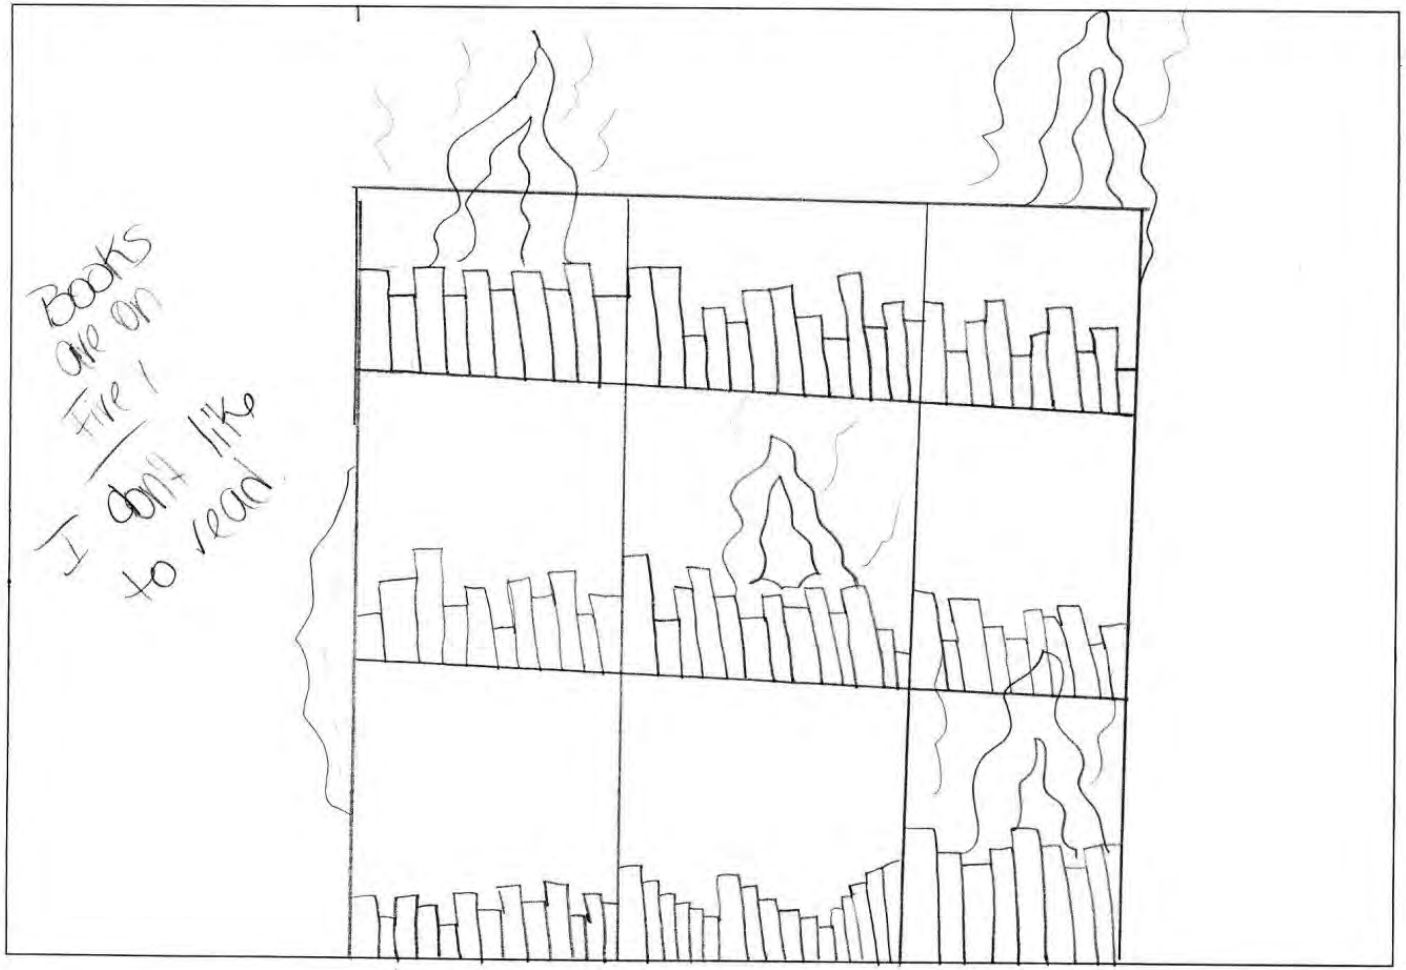
CODE 737

In the area below, draw a picture of what happens when you read. After completing your drawing, turn the page over and continue.

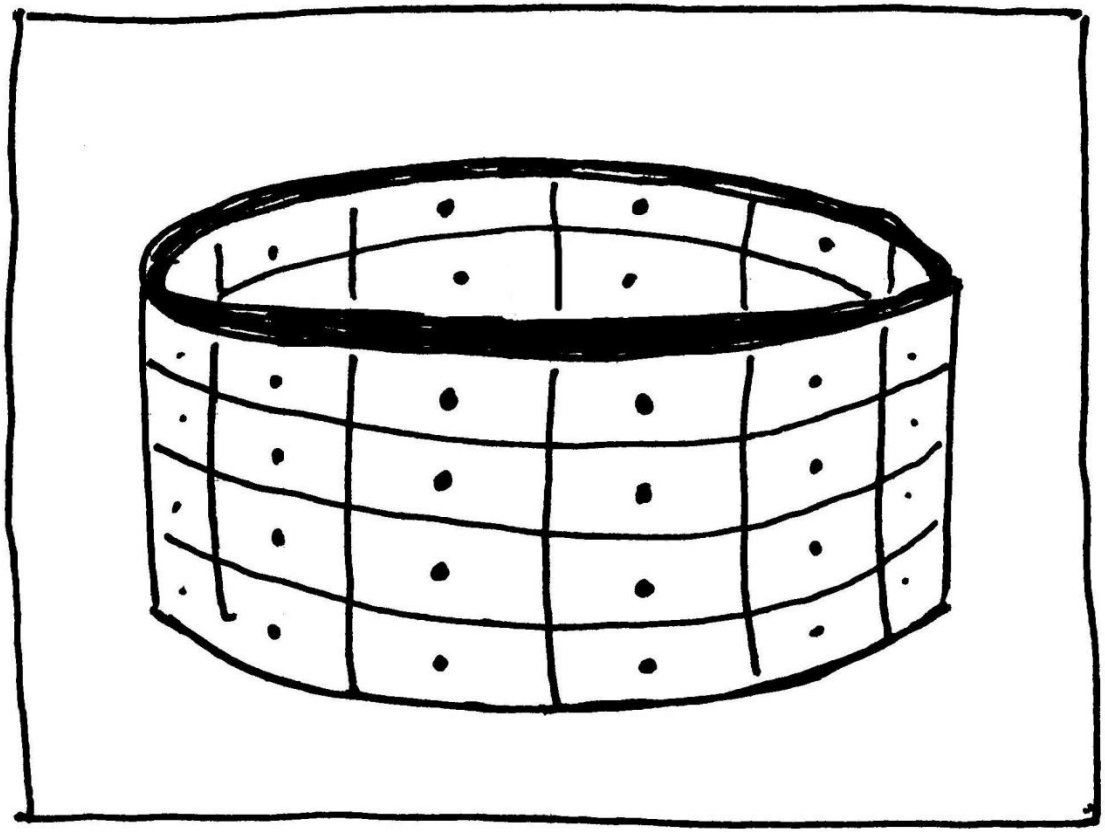


CODE _ 1149

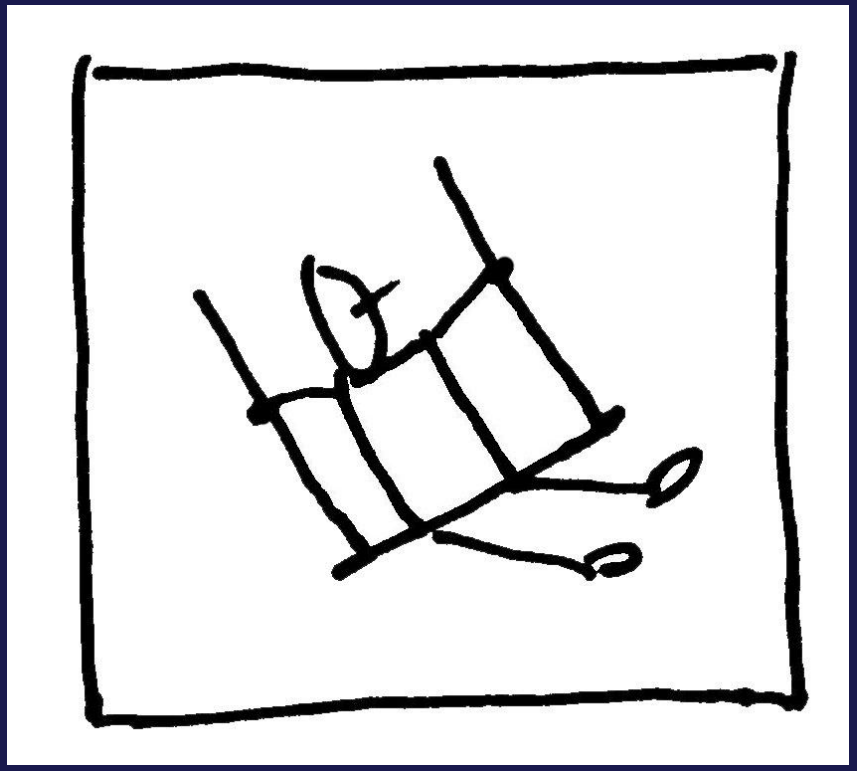
In the area below, draw a picture of what happens when you read. After completing your drawing, turn the page over and continue.



PANOPTICON

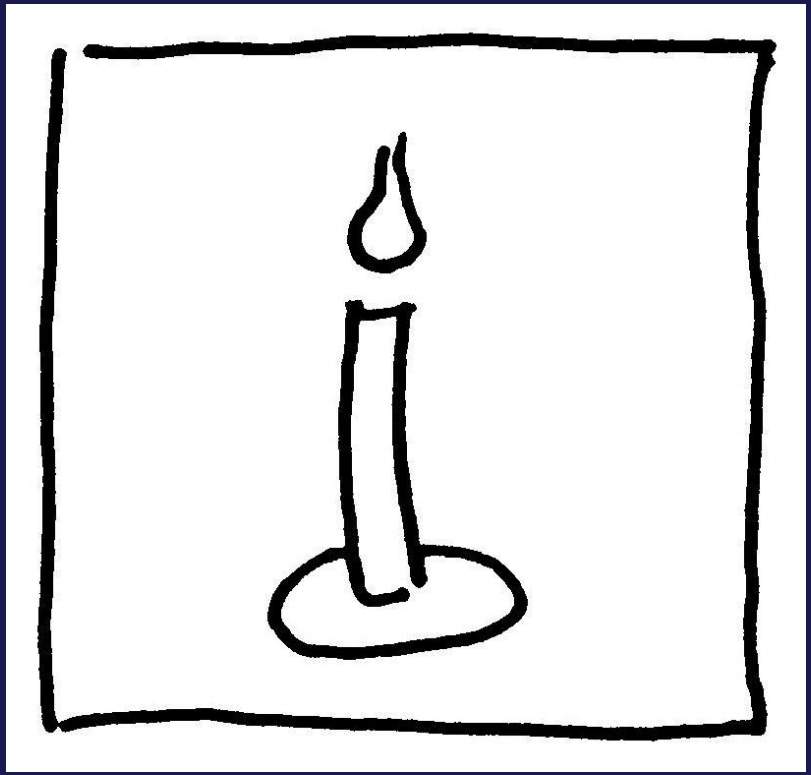


musgrave



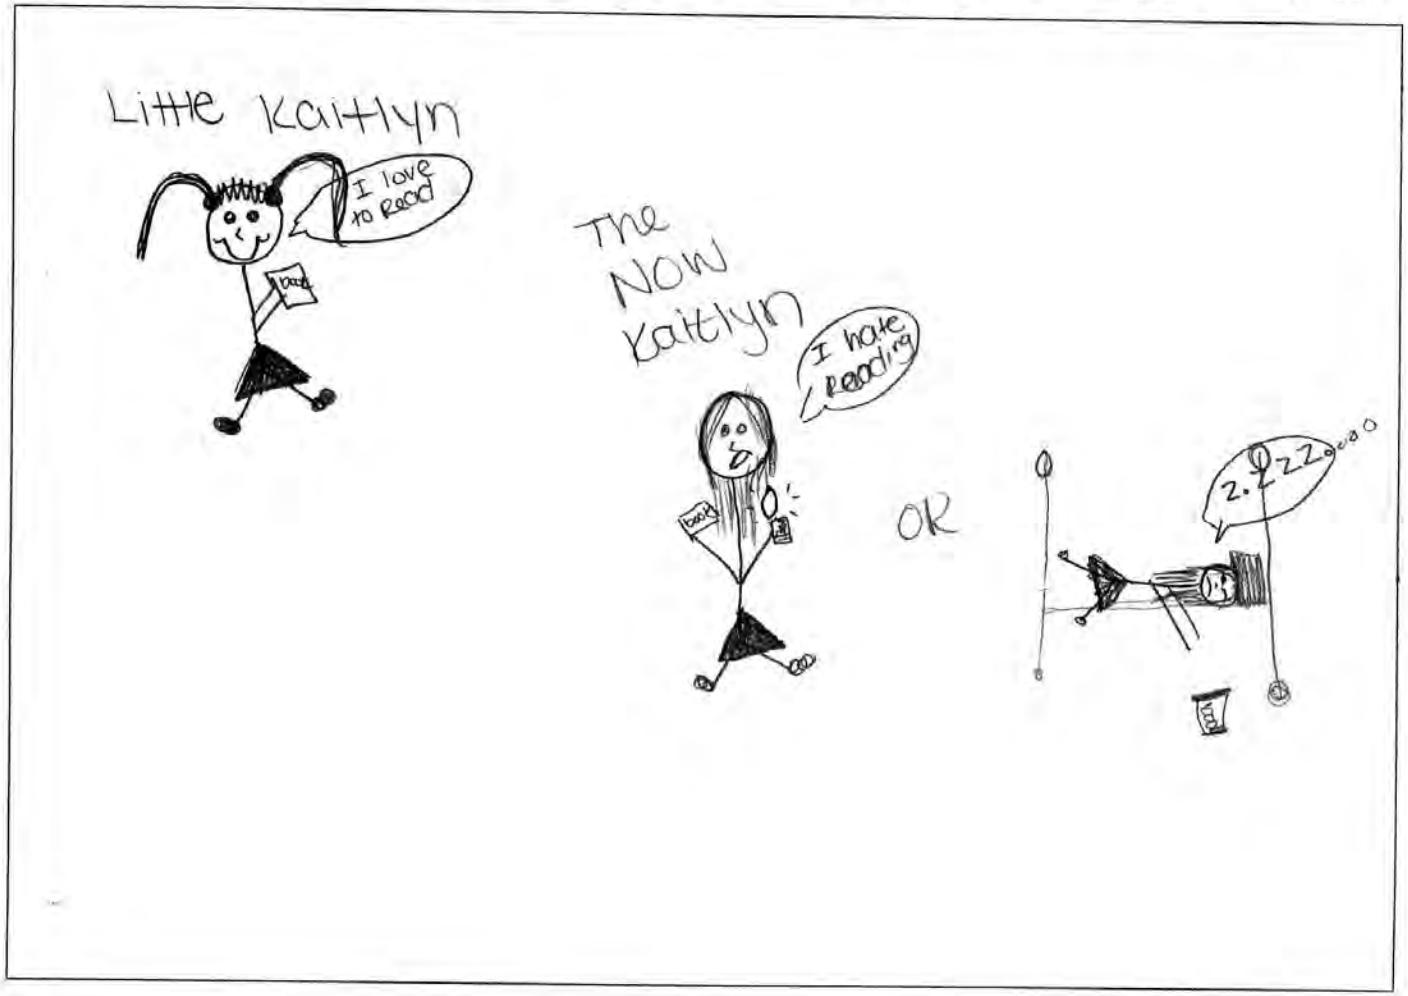
CODE 1305

In the area below, draw a picture of what happens when you read. After completing your drawing, turn the page over and continue.



CODE _ 1282

In the area below, draw a picture of what happens when you read. After completing your drawing, turn the page over and continue.



despair

school failure

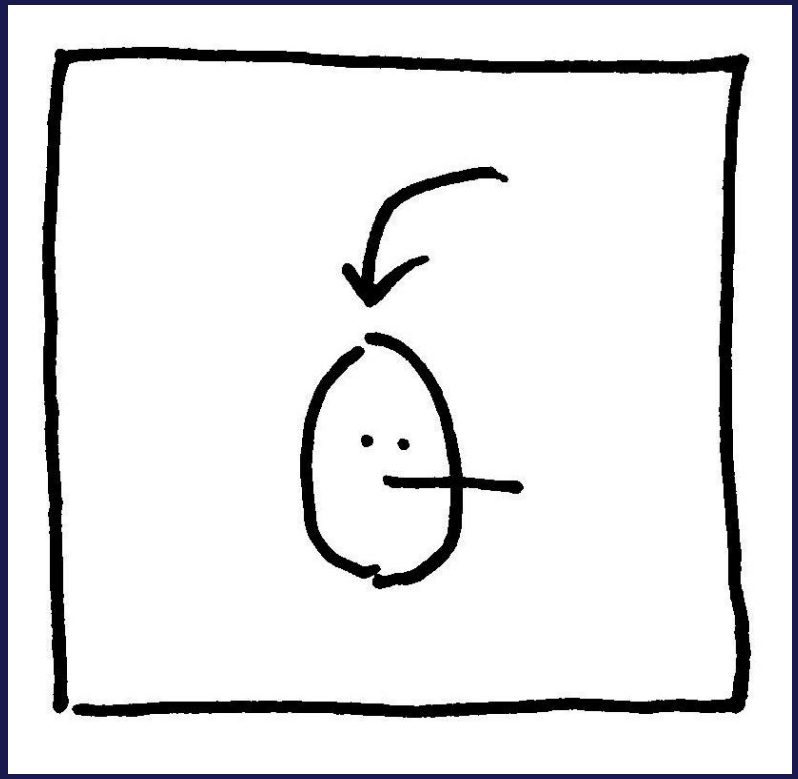
education = commodity

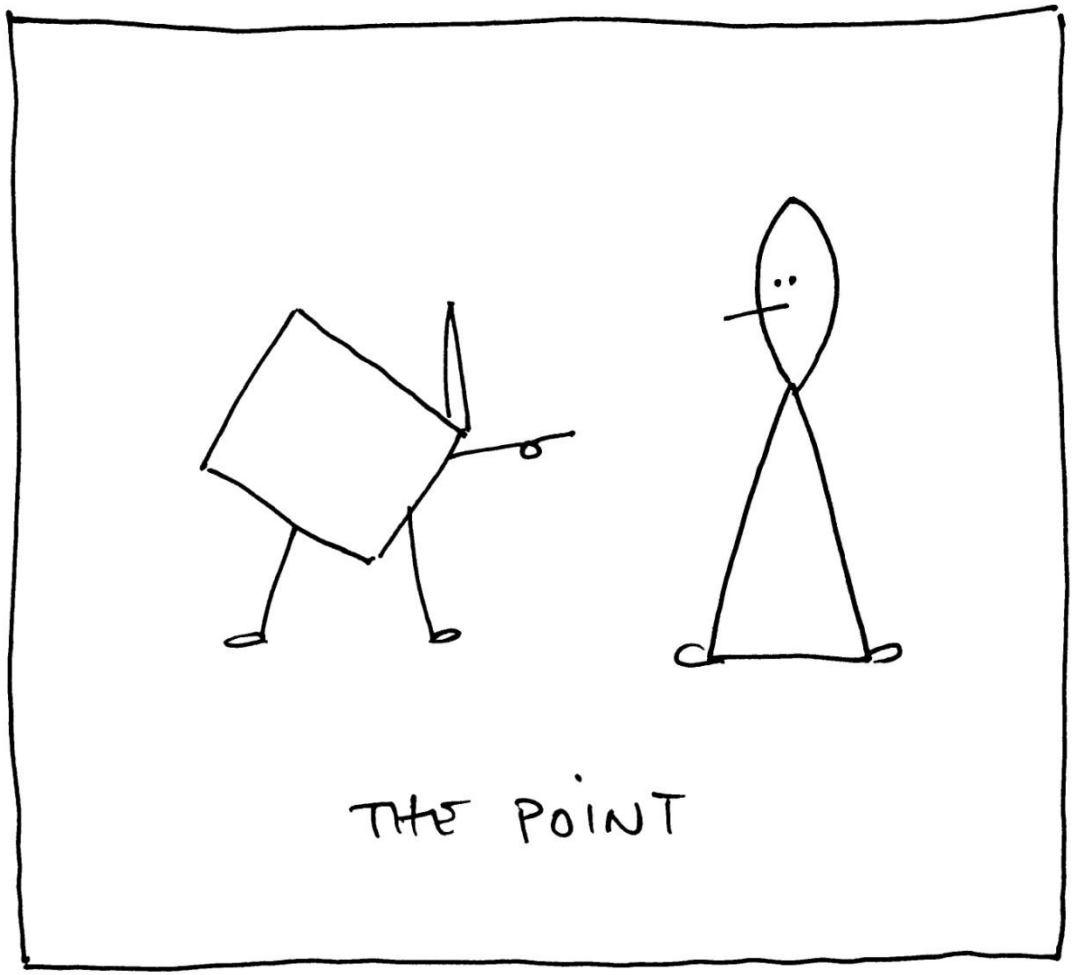
know-what

vs.

know-how

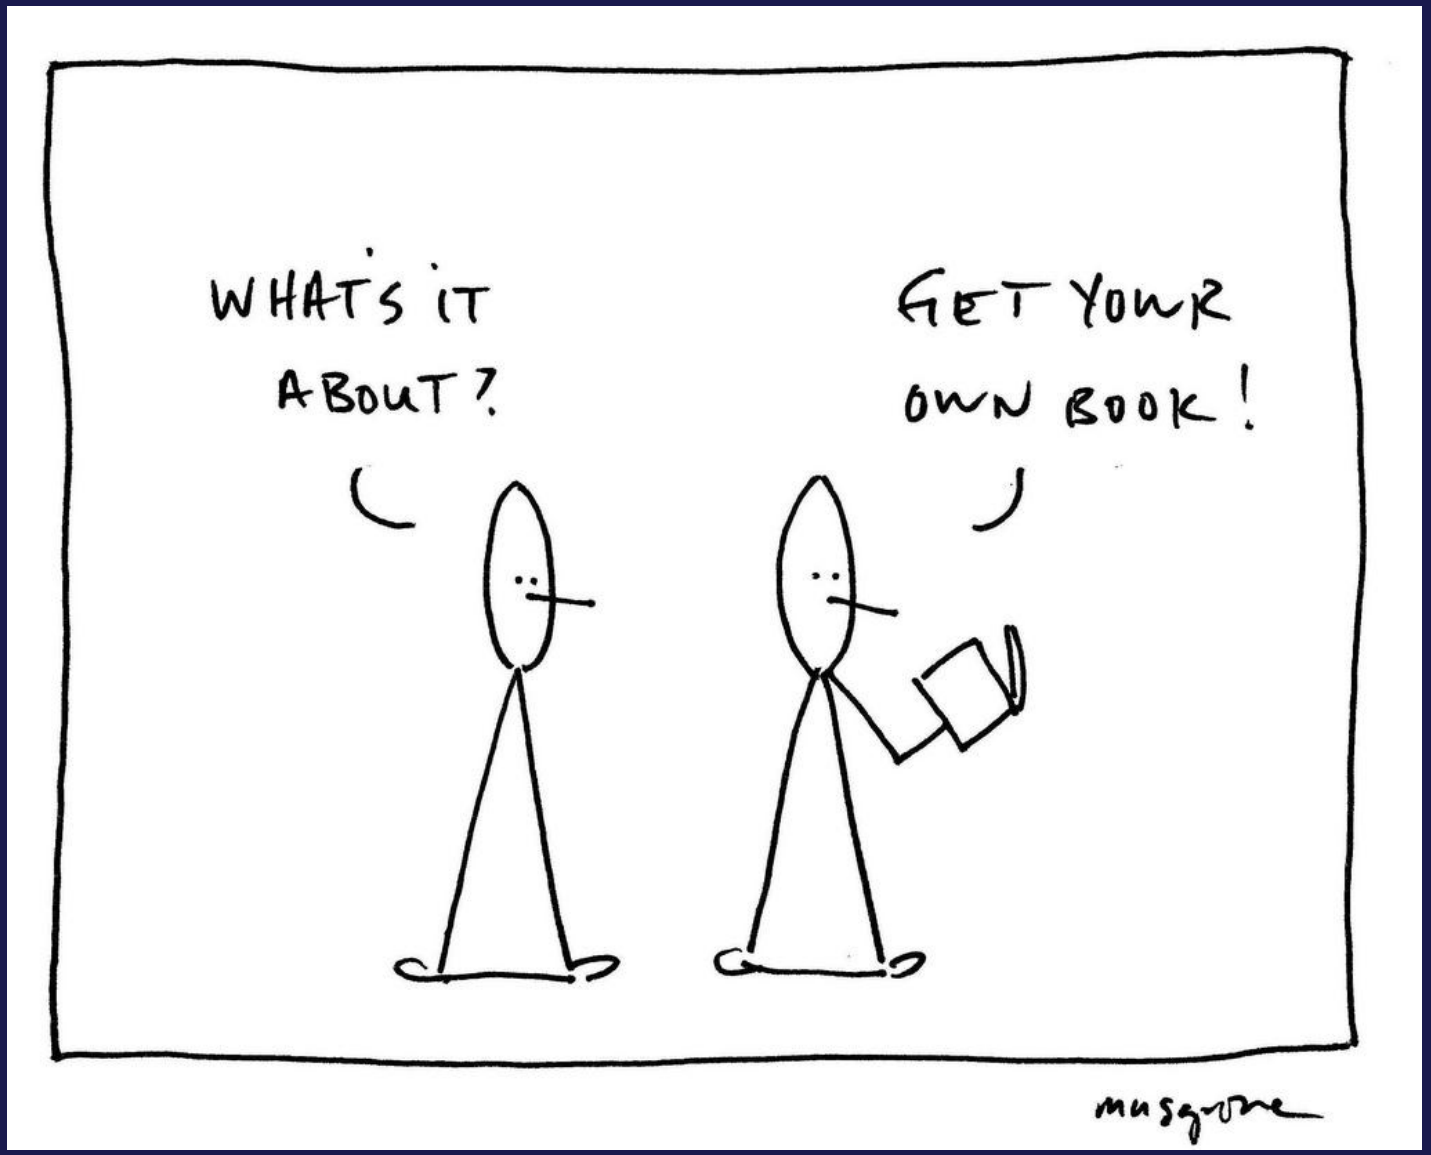
consumption
&
control





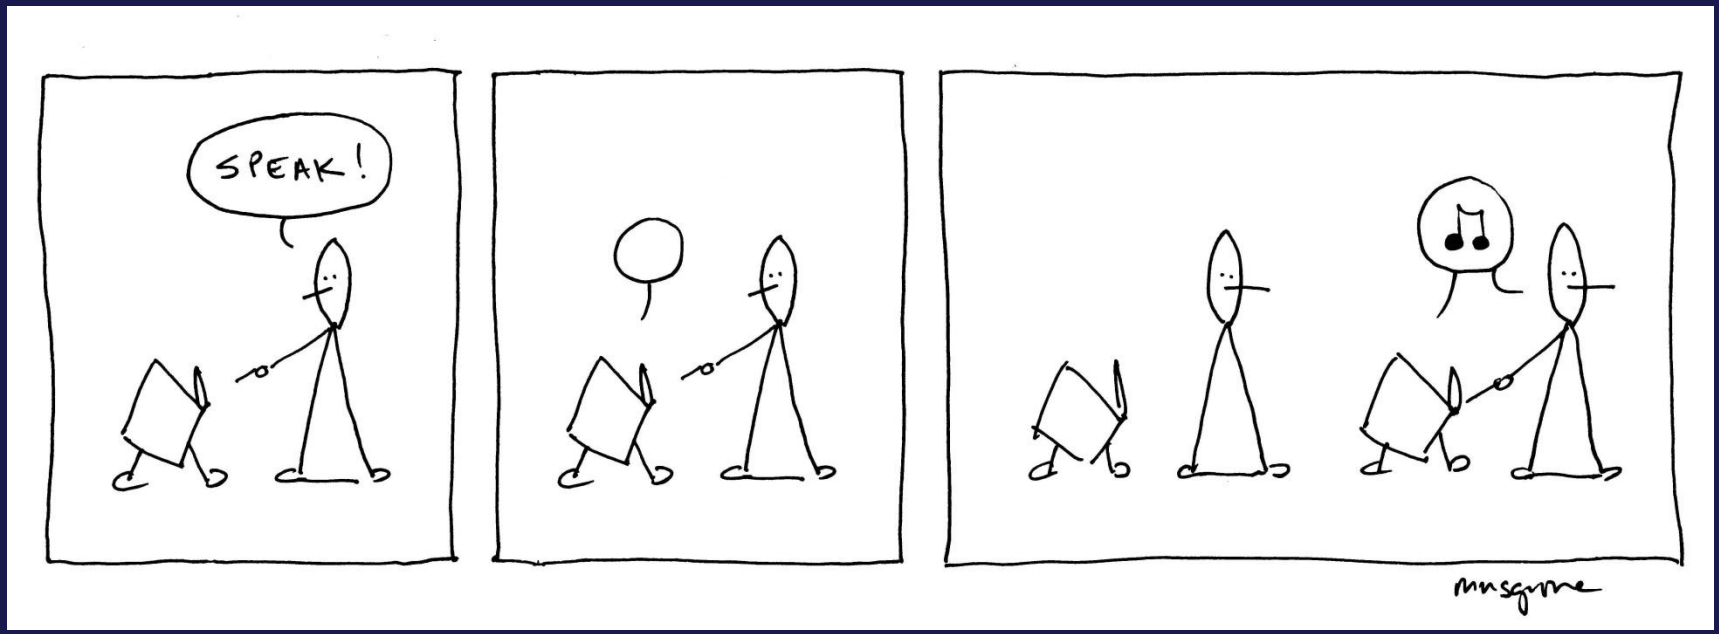
THE POINT
musgrave

aesthetic experience
is not transferable



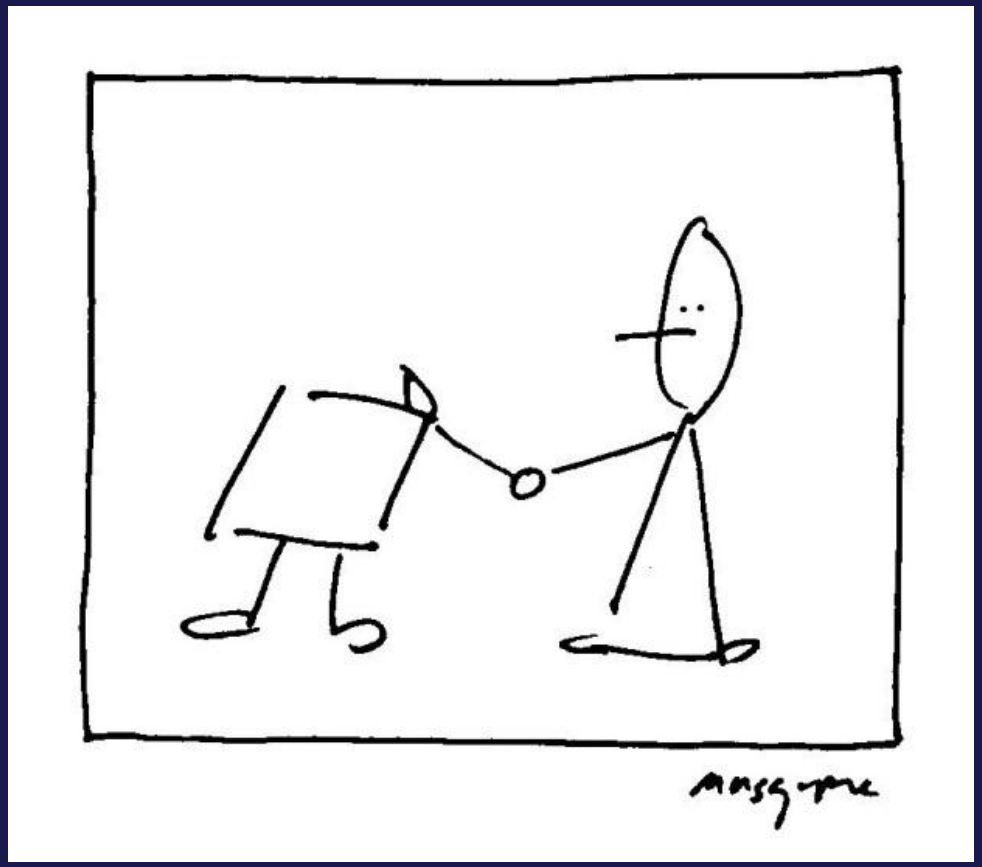
WHAT'S IT ABOUT?
GET YOUR OWN BOOK!
musgrove

no one can read
a book for you

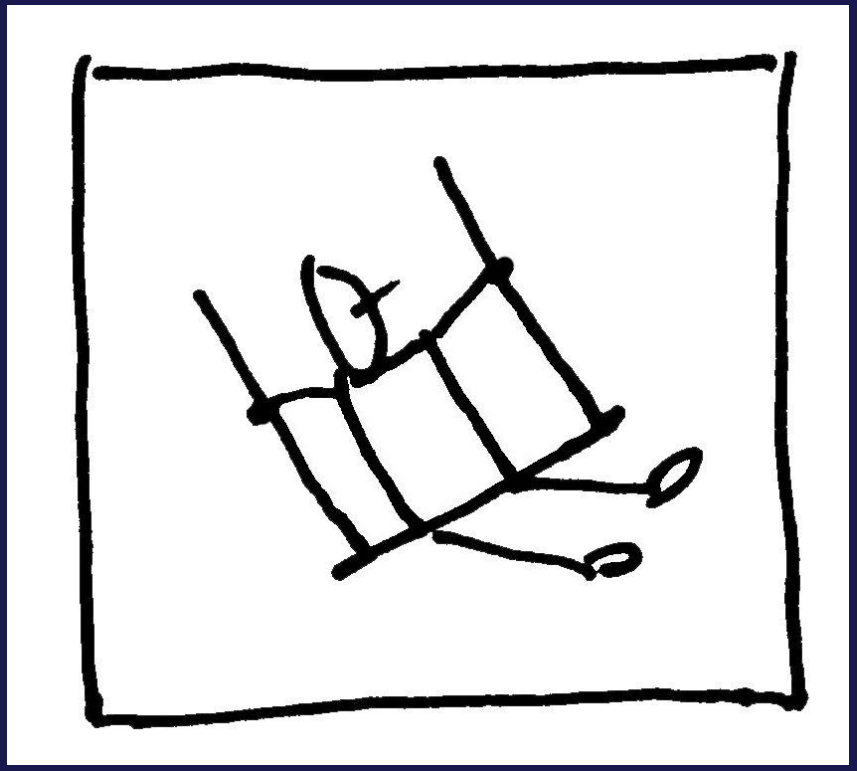


SPEAK!

reading is a relationship



reading freedoms

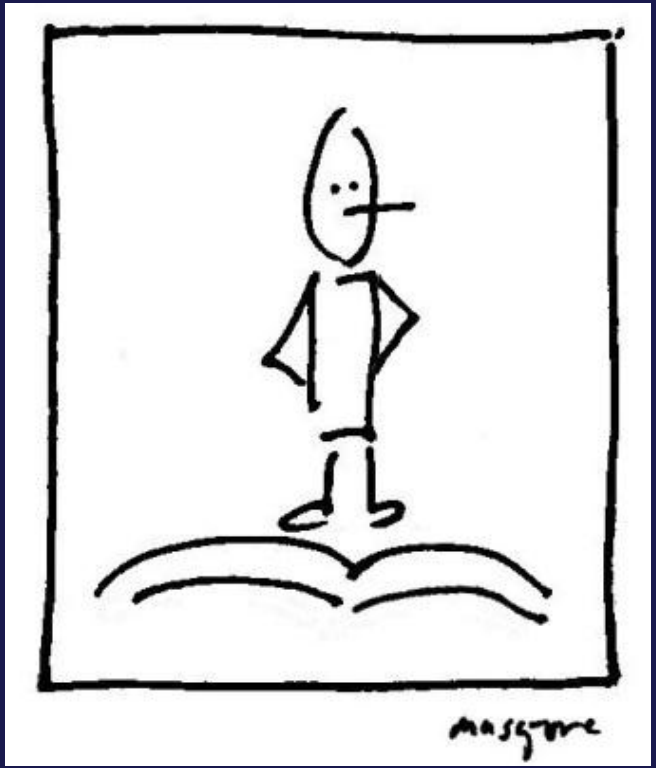


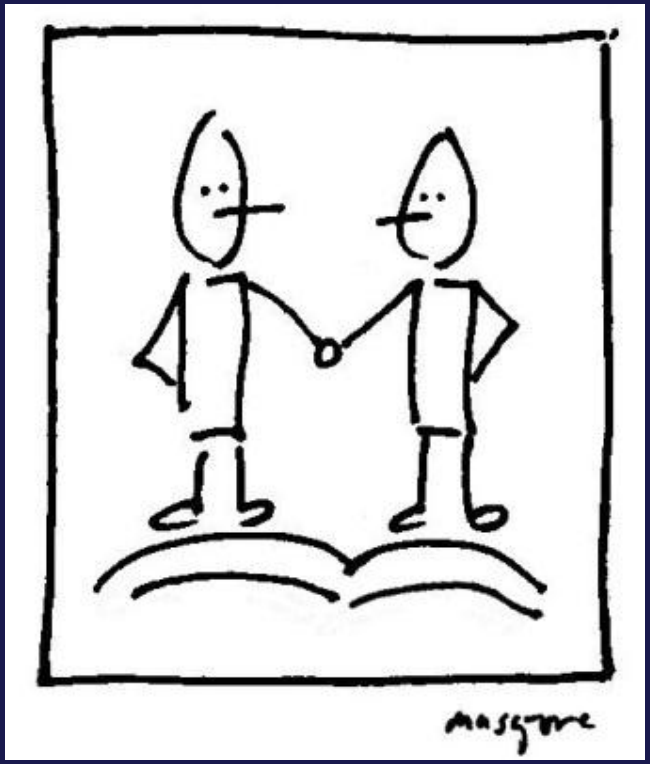
exercise of moral imagination

identification with others

“equipment for living”

cognitive embodiment
of individual liberty





cognitive embodiment
of identification with others